The Bills Used in the 1996 Environmental Voting Record

The IEC has selected bills from both the 1995 and 1996 sessions of the 89th General Assembly for the Environmental Voting Record. The bills represent a wide range of concerns including pollution prevention, waste reduction, environmental program funding, maintenance of biodiversity, and a healthful environment for Illinois communities.

A brief description of the bills used appears on pages 2 and 3. Roll calls for the Illinois Senate appear on pages 4 and 5; for the House of Representatives, on pages 6 through 9. For each legislator, a percentage of pro-environmental votes has been computed, along with percentages published in the 1993, 1992, and 1991 IEC Environmental Voting Record.

The overall profile for the 89th General Assembly shows a clustering in the upper-middle range of percentages. This effect is due in part to the presence of several bills on which nearly all members voted in favor of the pro-environmental position. IEC included these bills because they were high priorities for the environmental community. Legislators' percentage scores should be evaluated in terms of the overall average for each chamber. In the Senate, the average of all scores was 65%; in the House, the average of all scores was 70%.

SENATE BILLS

SB 46: Brownfields Redevelopment

Sponsors: Sen. Mahar/Rep. Persico

Pro-environmental vote: No

SB 46, along with HB 544, was an industry-drafted bill that amended the Environmental Protection Act to allow tax credits for voluntary remediation of contaminated sites.

The IEC supports the idea of redeveloping brownfields, but it opposed SB 46 as a "polluter bailout" bill that shifted responsibility away from the corporate polluter by removing "joint and several" liability and laid a financial burden on the state, i.e. the taxpayer.

The IEC is using the third-reading roll call from April 25, 1995 in the Senate and May 19, 1995 in the House. SB 46 passed both houses and was sent to Governor Edgar. Since there was no revenue source provided, Governor Edgar amendatorily vetoed both SB 46 and HB 544.

See also the synopsis of action on HB 544 and HB 901, which also dealt with the brownfields issue.

SB 300: Conservation 2000

Sponsors: Sens. Woodyard-Maitland

Reps. Ryder-Poe-Persico-Ackerman-Rutherford

Pro-environmental vote: Yes

This six-year, $100-million funding package was proposed by the Edgar Administration to support programs in several agencies. It amends the State Finance Act to create the Conservation 2000 Fund and the Conservation 2000 Projects Fund, to be used for natural resource protection, recreation, tourism, sustainable agriculture, and lake management.

IEC, along with a broad coalition of groups, actively supported SB 300. The bill was signed into law.

SB 694: Leaf-Burning Ban

Sponsors: Sens. Rauschenberger-Peterson

Pro-environmental vote: Yes

The IEC backed the efforts of air quality activists on behalf of this bill. SB 694 would have authorized the Illinois Pollution Control Board to develop a statewide rule to ban the burning of leaves and other yard waste in metropolitan areas. The bill passed the Senate in April, 1995 but was held in House Rules Committee and not voted on in the House.

SB 1390: Leaking Underground Tanks

Sponsor: Sen. Rauschenberger

Pro-environmental vote: Yes

This bill was amended with a proposed tax on wholesale gasoline shipments, in order to fund cleanups of leaking underground petroleum storage tanks. The General Assembly's approval restores a measure adopted in 1994 but struck down in a judicial opinion for having been passed improperly. The tax revenue allows a waiting list of people who have paid for cleanup to be reimbursed by the state.

SB 1777: Livestock Management Facilities Act

Sponsors: Sen. Doriahue/Rep. Myers

Pro-environmental vote: No

This bill was generated by the Governor's Livestock Industry Task Force with strong backing from livestock producers. Environmental and family farm groups opposed SB 1777 because it fell far short of the state's need to address air and water pollution risks from the rapidly increasing number of large-scale livestock facilities coming into Illinois.

After passing the Senate, SB 1777 was held in House Rules Committee. The House and Senate later passed a similar bill, HB 3151, with some amendatory changes and agreement to hold summer field hearings on the issue.

HOUSE BILLS

House Res. 101: Cass County Hog Facility

Sponsor: Rep. Myers
Pro-environmental vote: Yes

This resolution called upon the Illinois Attorney General to provide injunctive relief from construction of hog confinement facilities by Land O'Lakes in Cass County. The House passed HR 101 on April 26, 1996.

The resolution was a response to the report that the excavators had struck shallow groundwater in digging a manure lagoon at the site.

HB 544: Brownfields

Sponsor: Rep. Persico/Sen. Mahar
Pro-environmental vote: Yes, accept amendatory veto

Like SB 46, HB 544 was an industry-backed bill to provide new clean-up procedures for contaminated industrial sites. Although the IEC supports the concept of brownfield redevelopment, it opposed these bills because they shifted liability and the burden of proof from polluters to state government.

HB 544 passed the General Assembly but was amendatorily vetoed by Governor Edgar on August 18, 1995. The veto message cited problems with the altered liability framework and inadequate funding to cover cleanup costs.

Business leaders made it a top priority to override the Governor's action in the November veto session of the legislature. But lawmakers voted instead to accept HB 544 with the amendatory changes. Industry then put its own brownfields language onto a different bill (HB 901) and passed it.

For HB 544, IEC is using the House roll call of November 3, 1995 and the Senate roll call of November 16, 1995 —both votes to sustain the veto.

HB 901: Brownfields after Amendatory Veto

Sponsor: Rep. Persico
Pro-environmental vote: No

HB 901 began as a good bill to authorize a fee on wholesale shipments of gasoline to replenish the state's Leaking Underground Storage Tank (LUST) Fund. In the 1995 veto session, the "polluter bailout" version of brownfields redevelopment was included in a conference committee report to HB 901 and passed, with the addition of language that taps the state's recycling funds to pay for cleanup at hazardous waste sites for which the polluter formerly was responsible. In another switch, meanwhile, HB 544 became the vehicle for the LUST fee; it was passed. IEC is using the November 15, 1995 House roll call and the November 16, 1995 Senate roll call on the HB 901 conference committee report. In both cases, the pro-environmental vote was no.

HB 1523: Incinerator Subsidy Repeal

Sponsors: Sen. O'Malley/Rep. Murphy
Pro-environmental vote: Yes

Repeal of the Retail Rate Law was a top priority for environmentalists and community activists for three years. A conference committee report to HB 1523 repealed costly tax breaks initiated in 1987 when it was thought the state needed to attract more energy development. The incentives guaranteed profitability to trash-burning, polluting incinerators at the expense of the state and the taxpayers. Both the House and Senate voted in favor of repeal on January 11, 1996.

HB 1610: Incinerator Subsidies

Sponsor: Rep. Balthis
Pro-environmental vote: No

HB 1610 was a proposal to let the Retail Rate Law subsidies to incinerator developers continue for two more years. It lost on 3rd reading, April 27, 1995.

HB 3447: Soil and Water Conservation

Sponsor: Rep. Poe/Sen. Bomke
Pro-environment vote: Yes

By amending the Property Tax Code, this bill provides a tax break for land planted as a vegetated filter strip. Such strips have been shown to reduce significantly the amount of silt and polluting chemicals in streams.

Supported by resource conservation, environmental and agricultural groups, HB 3447 passed with little controversy.

Explanation of ratings

- +1.0 - "yes" on a pro-environmental bill, "no" on an anti-environmental bill
- +0.5 - "present" on an anti-environmental bill (a supportive vote; it does not help pass an unfavorable bill)
- 0 - absent or not voting
- 0.5 - "present" on a pro-environmental bill (a vote withheld from the pro-environmental position)
- 1.0 - "no" on a pro-environmental bill, "yes" on an anti-environmental bill

Points were added together for each legislator. This raw score was converted to a positive-number scale, then divided by the maximum points possible to obtain a percentage of environmentally supportive votes.

About the Environmental Voting Record and the IEC

The Environmental Voting Record is published by the Illinois Environmental Council (IEC) for purposes of public education and information. It provides a record and analysis of votes in the Illinois General Assembly on a range of environmental and conservation bills to help create better-informed citizens in the state of Illinois.

No endorsement of any party, legislator, or political candidate is implied in this or in other publications and activities of the Illinois Environmental Council. The IEC does not make financial contributions to, or receive them from, any political party.

The Illinois Environmental Council is a not-for-profit coalition of individuals and organizations committed to a healthful environment and stewardship of natural resources. Founded in 1975, the IEC currently includes more than seventy affiliated organizations. Governed by a statewide board of directors, the IEC works toward the goals of pollution prevention, waste reduction, maintenance of biodiversity, adequate funding for state environmental programs, and citizen participation in public policy decisions. The IEC serves its membership through its advocacy on state issues, informative publications, issue research, and networking assistance.

The public is welcome to attend the annual conference of the Illinois Environmental Council, scheduled each year on the third weekend in October. This event brings together grassroots leaders, environmental professionals, students, state government officials, and other interested individuals to hear notable speakers, participate in workshops, and enhance their network of contacts.

Regular publications of the IEC include the bimonthly Affiliate Notes featuring issue background and current news items, the IEC Bulletin with legislative news, Action Alerts, and occasional fact sheets and special reports.

If you would like additional copies of the 1996 Environmental Voting Record or wish to receive membership information, please contact the office.
