Dear Reader,

The 2012 legislative session resulted in the passage of a number of important bills that effectively advanced the priorities and objectives of the Illinois Environmental Council (IEC) and the environmental community. Particularly notable this year was the passage of bills that were part of complex, multi-year campaigns that overcame tough negotiating hurdles. Bills to update the plumbing code for conservation, to institute fees for concentrated animal feeding operations (CAFOs), and to ban BPA in children's food and beverage containers passed nearly unanimously this session.

At fourteen individual legislative measures, the 2012 list includes the largest number of bills that the IEC has ever included on a single scorecard. This fact is a true testament to the efforts of our twelve award winners, all of whom consistently voted for the environment. These leaders are all members of the House Environmental Caucus, led by retiring Representative Karen May. The significant impact of these legislators, and of the House Environmental Caucus itself, is clearly evident in our ongoing success at advancing important environmental initiatives in Springfield.

Despite our many victories this year, the environmental community's top goals for 2012 have not been achieved. SB1566, a critical measure that would fund the Illinois Department of Natural Resources, failed in the Senate by a small number of votes. Legislation to regulate new high volume hydraulic fracturing failed to move forward this year and, as a result, we are entering a time where operations may begin without sufficient regulation. Passage of these two bills is the environmental community's top priority as we move into the veto session, and will remain our primary objective throughout the 2013 legislative session.

This is the first scorecard that the IEC has published in nearly five years. IEC expects to publish this scorecard annually following the close of the regular legislative session. We are very excited to once again bring this important tool to legislators and our members. Thank you for your continued support.

Jennifer Walling

Explanation of Scoring

For each bill, legislators are evaluated on whether they voted with the pro-environment position (“+”) on the bill or against it (“-”). The votes are then tallied and an overall score is calculated. For instance, someone who voted pro-environment on six bills and against on four bills is given a 60% score.

The only votes not counted are those when a legislator had an excused absence (noted in the chart as “A”), which generally meant that the legislator was not in Springfield on that day due to an illness or other unexpected circumstances. Legislators who had excused absences were scored according to the other votes they cast.

Two other voting possibilities are included. On occasion, a legislator may vote “Present,” which is essentially an abstention. We have counted these votes the same as a no vote on the bill because the impact on the bill's potential to pass is the same as if that legislator had voted no. These are shown in the voting chart as “P” and counted the same as a “+” when it helps the pro-environment position, and shown as “p” and counted as “-” when it hurts. Similarly, when a legislator is in Springfield but does not vote on a bill, we have counted it the same as a “no” vote on the bill. This is noted in the chart as “NV” and counted the same as a “+” when this action supports the pro-environment position.

It is noted as “NV” and counted as “-” when it does not support the pro-environment position.

Legislators have many reasons for voting “Present” or for not voting at all. They may vote “Present” because of a philosophical conflict on the issue, or simply because they don't want to commit publicly one way or the other. They may miss a vote because they were in an important meeting, were in the bathroom at the time of the vote, or were at their desk but decided not to vote. Regardless of the reason, all of these actions have significant consequences for whether or not a bill passes, and therefore we have decided that it is appropriate to hold legislators accountable for their actions whatever they may be.

Any legislator with an asterisk (*) beside their score did not complete a full term. Legislators with partial records were not awarded perfect environmental voting record awards.

Finally, there are a few instances that IEC is aware of where a legislator has asked that their vote be changed “on the record” after the vote was made. This change is recorded in legislative transcripts. Unfortunately, this does not actually change the recorded vote tally and cannot affect the final outcome of a vote. Because of this, we are unable to accurately research all of these vote changes and have based our scores only on the original votes.

About the Bills in the 2012 Environmental Scorecard

SB3811: Net Metering

Sponsors: Sen. Don Harmon and Rep. Karen May

SB3811 makes a technical fix to Illinois' net metering and energy efficiency laws to support renewable energy and conservation in Illinois.

SB3811 passed the House by a vote of 104-14 and the Senate by 48-6.

The Environmental Scorecard is published by the Illinois Environmental Council (IEC) for purposes of public education. It provides a record and analysis of votes in the Illinois General Assembly on a wide range of environmental and conservation bills with the goal of creating a better-informed citizenry.

No endorsement of any party, legislator or political candidate is implied in this Scorecard or in any other publications or activities of the Illinois Environmental Council. The IEC does not make financial contributions to any candidate or political party.

IEC is a non-partisan 37-year-old organization that promotes sound environmental laws and policies, provides a forum for environmentalists, and facilitates a statewide activist network. IEC performs legislative advocacy and serves as the environmental community's eyes, ears and voice in Springfield.
