2018 ENVIRONMENTAL SCORECARD

Dear Reader,

Every year, the Illinois Environmental Council releases a scorecard assigning a percentage score to state legislators based on how they voted on bills affecting the environment. This year, we are pleased to award a record number of 100% scores, a development reflecting the fact that legislators increasingly ask IEC's lobbyists if bills will be considered on the scorecard before deciding their votes.

While breaking this record is a positive development, it's tempered by the fact that many of the environmental community's priority bills did not get a vote this session. For example, an important bill to stop federal rollbacks of Illinois' environmental laws passed the Illinois Senate, but did not make it out of the House Environment Committee. Unfortunately this was the case for many of our bills in House Environment, which, despite having an excellent chair this year in Representative Carol Sente, a majority of the committee have strong industry ties and hold anti-environment positions.

It is also still the case that many environmental priorities supported by a majority of the General Assembly, and Illinoisans generally, would be vetoed by Governor Rauner if passed. In the last two years, and at the direction of the Governor, executive agencies opposed bills that would have increased regulation on livestock operations, provided standing in court for those impacted by pollution-causing projects, and required replacing all lead service lines. Regardless of who is in the Governor's mansion after the 2018 elections, IEC will continue to pursue each of these policies.

With an unprecedented number of retirements in the General Assembly, we hope the 2018 Environmental Scorecard will serve to recognize the legislators who have lead but are leaving and inspire a new class of leaders. At IEC, we look forward to working with all legislators in the coming years on the policies enumerated above, as well as curbing emissions that contribute to climate change - particularly in frontline communities, reduce nutrient pollution in our waterways, increase preserved natural lands, and much more.

We hope that you find IEC's 2018 Environmental Scorecard to be an informative and useful tool. As always, thank you for your dedication in keeping up with events at the state level and supporting IEC.

EXPLANATION OF SCORING

For each bill, legislators are evaluated on whether they voted with the pro-environment position (“+”) on the bill or against it (“-“). For bills that the environmental community supports, a YES vote is a + and a NO vote is a -. For bills that are opposed, a NO vote is a + and a YES vote is a -. The votes are then tallied and an overall score is calculated. For instance, someone who voted pro-environment on six bills and against on four bills is given a 60% score.

The only votes not counted are those when a legislator had an excused absence (noted in the chart as “A”), which generally meant that the legislator was not in Springfield on that day due to an illness or other unexpected circumstances. Legislators who had excused absences were scored according to the other votes they cast.

Two other voting possibilities are included. On occasion, a legislator may vote “Present,” which is essentially an abstention. We typically have counted these votes the same as a no vote on the bill, because the impact on the bill’s potential to pass is the same as if that legislator had voted no. These are shown in the voting chart as “P” and counted the same as a “+” when it helps the pro-environment position, and shown as “p” and counted as “-” when it hurts. Similarly, when a legislator is in Springfield but does not vote on a bill, we have counted it the same as a “no” vote on the bill. This is noted in the chart as “NV” and counted the same as a “+” when this action supports the pro-environment position. It is noted as “nv” and counted as “-” when it does not support the pro-environment position.

Legislators have many reasons for voting “Present” or for not voting at all. They may vote “Present” because of a philosophical conflict on the issue, or simply because they don’t want to commit publicly one way or the other. They may miss a vote because they were in an important meeting, or were at their desk but decided not to vote. Regardless of the reason, all of these actions have significant consequences for whether or not a bill passes, and therefore we have decided that it is appropriate to hold legislators accountable for their actions, whatever they may be.

The Environmental Scorecard is published by the Illinois Environmental Council (IEC) for purposes of public education. It provides a record and analysis of votes in the Illinois General Assembly on a wide range of environmental and conservation bills with the goal of creating a better-informed citizenry.

No endorsement of any party, legislator or political candidate is implied in this Scorecard or in any other publications or activities of the Illinois Environmental Council. The IEC does not make financial contributions to any candidate or political party.

IEC is a non-partisan 43-year-old organization that promotes sound environmental laws and policies, provides a forum for environmentalists, and facilitates a statewide activist network. IEC performs legislative advocacy and serves as the environmental community's eyes, ears and voice in Springfield.
