

2019 ENVIRONMENTAL SCORECARD

Dear Reader,

Every year, the Illinois Environmental Council releases a scorecard assigning a percentage score to state legislators based on how they voted on bills affecting the environment. This scorecard is an effective tool to keep legislators accountable to their constituents on environmental issues.

We are especially proud of the policies behind this year's scorecard. Illinois made progress on clean energy, conservation, climate change, clean water, clean air, wildlife and equity.

Notable victories include legislation requiring polluters - not taxpayers - to pay for coal ash clean up (SB9), a repeal of an outdated law prohibiting the state of Illinois from regulating carbon (HB3481), a law disincentivizing illegal logging (HB3105) after a four year effort, and the defeat of proposals that would rollback endangered species protections and criminalize environmental protest.

The new class of freshman lawmakers brought protection of the environment to a new level. Nineteen of the 50 lawmakers receiving a 100% rating in this year's scorecard are in their first legislative session. We are very excited to see what else our community can achieve with this support going forward.

As a citizen, we hope that you find IEC's 2019 Environmental Scorecard to be an informative and useful tool. As always, thank you for your dedication in keeping up with events at the state level and supporting IEC.

Executive Director
Illinois Environmental Council

EXPLANATION OF SCORING

For each bill, legislators are evaluated on whether they voted with the pro-environment position (“+”) on the bill or against it (“-”). For bills that the environmental community supports, a YES vote is a + and a NO vote is a -. For bills that are opposed, a NO vote is a + and a YES vote is a -. The votes are then tallied and an overall score is calculated. For instance, someone who voted pro-environment on six bills and against on four bills is given a 60% score.

The only votes not counted are those when a legislator had an excused absence (noted in the chart as “E”), which generally meant that the legislator was not in Springfield on that day due to an illness or other unexpected circumstances. Legislators who had excused absences were scored according to the other votes they cast.

Two other voting possibilities are included. On occasion, a legislator may vote “Present,” which is essentially an abstention. We typically have counted these votes the same as a no vote on the bill, because the impact on the bill’s potential to pass is the same as if that legislator had voted no. These are shown in the voting chart as “P” and counted the same as a “+” when it helps the pro-environment position, and shown as “p” and counted as “-” when it hurts. Similarly, when a legislator is in Springfield but does not vote on a bill, we have counted it the same as a “no” vote on the bill. This is noted in the chart as “NV” and counted the same as a “+” when this action supports the pro-environment position. It is noted as “nv” and counted as “-” when it does not support the pro-environment position.

Legislators have many reasons for voting “Present” or for not voting at all. They may vote “Present” because of a philosophical conflict on the issue, or simply because they don’t want to commit publicly one way or the other. They may miss a vote because they were in an important meeting, were in the bathroom at the time of the vote, or were at their desk but decided not to vote. Regardless of the reason, all of these actions have significant consequences for whether or not a bill passes, and therefore we have decided that it is appropriate to hold legislators accountable for their actions, whatever they may be.

Representatives Jerry Costello, Melissa Conyears-Ervin, Nathan Reitz, and Jawaharial Williams did not complete a full term and were not included in this scorecard.

The Environmental Scorecard is published by the Illinois Environmental Council (IEC) for purposes of public education. It provides a record and analysis of votes in the Illinois General Assembly on a wide range of environmental and conservation bills with the goal of creating a better-informed citizenry.

No endorsement of any party, legislator or political candidate is implied in this Scorecard or in any other publications or activities of the Illinois Environmental Council. The IEC does not make financial contributions to any candidate or political party.

IEC is a non-partisan 44-year-old organization that promotes sound environmental laws and policies, provides a forum for environmentalists, and facilitates a statewide activist network. IEC performs legislative advocacy and serves as the environmental community's eyes, ears and voice in Springfield.
